[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Our Own Volcanoes.
North Overton Messenger's article on "The Volcanic Activity of the Earth," in the Era Magazine, contains a large amount of useful knowledge. Here are a few crumbs: In our North American possessions we have volcanoes to spare. There are fifteen active craters in Alaska, and a score more in repose which may at any time break forth. The Alaska volcanoes have been active during the time the country has been known to civilized man. In 1796 an island was formed three miles north of Unalaska by volcanic action; eight years later, when revisited, the soil was still warm. This island has gradually been increasing in size, probably by upheaval of land. Just west of Bering, another volcano in Kamtschatka, 15,000 feet in height, erupted in 1925 with a noise that was heard for 100 miles. One of the volcanoes in Cook Inlet is 14,000 feet high.

Our Own Volcanoes.
The Philippine Archipelago presents probably the most interesting area of volcanic activity of American scientists. Thus far the Spanish records must be relied upon to describe the system; but the great future the American Geological Survey will take the subject in hand and begin a more careful inspection. The volcanoes of the Philippines run in two parallel belts northwest and southwest through the archipelago. In fact, the Philippine islands are situated over a volcanic fissure which can be traced from the Kurile Islands in the north to Java, Australia and New Zealand in the south, for a distance of more than 130 degrees of latitude. This region has been the scene of many frightful seismic catastrophes involving enormous loss of human life. The volcanoes not only are of prodigious size, but seem to possess unusual latent energy. The greatest cataclysm in the world has known occurred in this area, when Krakatoa exploded and half of an entire mountain sank into the depths of the sea.

ANGELNO HEIGHTS.

There is more building in progress on Angelno Heights at present than at any time since the development of the oil fields began in this vicinity. The building of the belt line has given a decided impetus to the building in the hill-and section, and several new factors are working in its favor. The electrification of the old horse-car line into Echo Park road brings great possibilities before that quarter, and the new certain construction of the grand boulevard on the hill-and section will be of much good to the heights. The possible enlargement of the boulevard on the hill-and section, north, is another matter discussed by some of our citizens.

UNIVERSITY.

Although college will not open for about a month, several of the students have returned from their vacations. They bring interesting reports from their classmates, who say, will nearly all return to the university. The failure of a considerable percentage of the students to return has been one of the greatest drawbacks to the institution in past years. Consequently this new tendency means great things for the future of the university.

The fair conclusion from all the facts adduced, and taking into account the equities and the necessities of the situation, is that both the increase in the force recommended, and the advance in salaries advocated, can safely and justly be sanctioned by the Council.

The shipbuilding trust is now in working order. Mr. Knox will please

Morley's new first baseman, Dillon, has arrived, and is in the game. He is no better than Hanlon on the bag, and has surprised no one at the bat. Bone, who played second base for Las Beas before he blew up and went to Milwaukee, is now an umpire in the Western League. The teams in the St. Louis American and National leagues will play a series of games after the season is over, merely for honor. Hanlon has been switched to second as for the Lodiots and from the fine manner in which he plays that position, one would think he had been brought up on it.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics team, has reserved his entire club for next season, with one exception, although the team is almost at the tail end of the league. Mack has an idea he will do better next year with the same players.

Jumpster Wade is occasionally doing sensational work for the Philadelphia team, but his wife is accusing him of being a bum. He is saying he may jump that team any day. Booze and women are too much for the rube.

Brennahan, the former Western League player, who is now with the most remarkable experiences of any player that ever lived. Starting as a catcher, he has successfully played every position in both infield and outfield. He is also a star catcher. There was not one man in a thousand who could do this.

Oakland is having some of its last season's luck thus early in the game, and a number of its best players are being sent to the minors. From all appearances, the Lookouts have a chance to get the pennant, for when the Mud Hens once commence to hit the tobaggan their finish is in sight.

Jerry Denny, the old National crack, has been sent to the minors, and it seems to be in the game.

Raymer seems to have an idea that Shoreley's new pitcher, Hall, of Visalia, will make good. He has plenty of speed and lots of curves. Stump means if them have more than this and then not enough.

Bill Phils, the new third baseman for the Ha Beens, seems to be all that is needed and will probably improve with time. He is a fast runner and a good thrower. He will not be bothered much by rough players, for he is said to be something of a prize-fighter, having won the Boston American league club title last year between $40,000 and $50,000 this year.

Outfielder Jimmy Barrett of Detroit has signed a two years' contract with that team and Mercier will also play

If Hartwell really played sick so he could get his release from the Locomos, he should have asked for it months ago. Not one of the local fans are going to leave us, he said, from a free game, especially a last home game for California company, as he said. It is neither a bat nor pitch. If he fooled the fans, he is getting away. We are sorry he did not turn the trick months ago. It is possible that Eason may be kept on second base for some time, as Raymer is said to be in need of a catcher, not being in the best of health. He is certainly entitled to a lay-off. If Crowley Donlin has been released from his contract, his services will be available. He will play in the Cincinnati team.

The Wisconsin State League has quit business on account of rainy weather and the baseball season is over.

It is about another month, the California League managers will be able to meet all the crack eastern players they desire. Any one having a job here they will do well to cultivate it and not try to be haughty.

Started for Annapolis.

Thomas Edward Mahew, a graduate of the Los Angeles Yale School, has started for Annapolis to take his final examination for a commission in the Naval Academy. Young Mahew owes his appointment to Senator Hard. He is 25 years of age, is a native of California, a born musician, and one of the best all-around athletes of his age, that over participating in scholastic field games in Los Angeles. He has an uncle in the navy who will coach him for his approaching examination. Friends of the young man in Los Angeles believe he will make a model naval cadet.

Newman Club's Outing.

The Newman Club has completed its arrangements for the next meeting which will be one of special interest. Upon the invitation of Senator Del Valle the club will hold its session at Camulos. The party will leave Los Angeles on Sunday, the 21st inst., at 8:30 a.m., and arrive at Camulos at 12:30, when many will be said immediately by Rev. Bishop Montgomery. After mass a Spanish luncheon will be served to the party, and Charles F. Lummis will discuss "The Mission Indians." The return train will leave for Los Angeles at 8:30 p.m. Special rates have been made by the railroad for the trip.

Band for Notable Visitor.

The Jewish lodges of Los Angeles are engrossed in preparations for a big reception and banquet to be given at Levy's Wednesday night, August 21, p.m., in honor of Alfred Muller, Esq., of Denver, Colo., the retiring Grand President of District No. 2, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith. Muller's administration was characterized by marked progress and success, and has made for him a national reputation in Jewish spheres. Mr. Muller and wife are enjoying a tour of California, prior to his assuming active management of the great Jewish National Hospital for Consumptives at Denver, which is probably the greatest of the many benevolent enterprises supported by the B'nai B'rith order. In San Francisco and elsewhere on his travels Mr. Muller has been the recipient of flattering attention by the local Jewish bodies, and the Los Angeles lodges will endeavor to entertain the visitor in a manner befitting his rank and the traditional hospitality of the Angel City.

SAYS CORPSE WORE A MASK.

Another Mystery in the Hollywood Hills.

Ghastly Discovery Made by a Merchant.

Body of Unknown Man Found Near the Road on North Vermont Avenue.

The chain of hills which skirt the Hollywood Valley on the north and lie between it and the mountains has produced another mystery. It is the scene of a new one similar in many respects to the surprising number which have originated in that locality during the past several years. If the cautions there could talk many of them would relate stories of bloodshed, of murders and of suicides around a number of which are clouds of mystery which the authorities have never been able to penetrate or dispel.

The case discovered yesterday may be cleared when the official investigation of it is made today.

While on a Sunday outing with the members of his family, J. F. Allen, a well-known fruit and commission merchant, whose home is at No. 648 South Hill street, this city, discovered the body of a man lying near the road. Mr. Allen had driven to the head of the extension of Vermont avenue northward and stopped at the base of the steep hill just where the road leads into the pass through the mountains. Leaving his family near the carriage he began walking about the place, and within one hundred yards came upon the body. The discovery startled him and he approached the corpse, but the body was so badly decomposed that the stench was too great for him to stand, and he contented himself with making a long-range inspection of it. He got within fifteen feet of the remains, hoping to get a definite description of the features.

Then he discovered that the face of the dead man was covered with what appeared to be a black mask.

"It was impossible for me to approach nearer the body," said Mr. Allen last night, "because of the stench, which was most sickening. I was startled and the discovery, of course, made me a trifle nervous. The apparent mask on the face made the matter all the more mysterious, and inasmuch as I could do nothing I did not endeavor to approach nearer, for I had no desire to be sick. The body was lying flat on its back with the arms extended and the hands thrown back. At first I thought it was the body of a colored man, but I noticed that the hands were light in color, and I now believe that it was a white man. The clothing was black and appeared to be of good quality. The feet were large and were encased in a pair of heavy shoes which showed no signs of wear. There was no coat on the body, and I do not remember what kind of shirt was worn. I am satisfied that the black cloth over the face was a mask and not simply a cloth thrown over the face, for I noticed holes in it like eyeholes. I did not approach closely enough to see whether there were any wounds, nor did I see any weapons. I could not even guess how long the body had been there; but its condition was such that the man must have been dead many days. I did not remain there long, but hurried back to the city and notified first the police and then the coroner."

Inasmuch as the place where the body was found is outside the city and the police have no jurisdiction, no officers were sent out last night. It was almost dark when the coroner was notified, and he stated that owing to the remoteness of the place it would be next to impossible for him to find the body at night, and he therefore decided to wait until this morning before visiting the place.

He advanced the theory that Mr. Allen may have been mistaken in thinking the face covered with a mask, because the body had been there long and exposed to the direct rays of the sun, the features might turn black from decomposition and exposure.

This is the third mysterious case in that section of the county within the past year. Only few months ago the body of a murdered man was discovered on the other side of Griffith Park. He had been shot in such manner as to show that it would have been impossible for him to have inflicted the wounds himself.

He was identified as being that of a man who had worked near Oxnard; but who killed him, or why he was killed, never discovered. The authorities investigated the case for several weeks, but finally dropped it.

Prior to that the nude body of Flo Pederson, a native of Denmark, education, an expert art decorator by profession and possessor of considerable means, was found not far from where the body was discovered yesterday. He had been missing for weeks. The last seen of him was when he left his rooms on North Broadway in company with a painter. For months the detectives worked on the case. They became convinced that he had been murdered, but by whom and for what purpose they were never able to discover, nor could they ever locate the man with whom he was last seen. This case was the subject of international correspondence, the State Department at Washington having instituted an investigation in Denmark to ascertain who Pederson's relatives were.

Several years ago the body of a woman was found near the same locality. Nearby was a bottle of carbolic acid. The case was doubtless one of suicide, but the identity of the woman was never discovered.
